

Bitiya, Inc.

The Organizers:

Bitiya is an independent organization dedicated to making a difference in the lives of underprivileged girls by providing quality education and bolster overall well being. We are dedicated to our mission in creating opportunities for girls from multicultural backgrounds regardless of race, color, creed, gender, or nationality. Our commitment is to identify those girls whose needs have not been met and to bring hope and happiness in their lives.

The Event: “truly a family event”

Bitiya proudly presents “The Bitiya Summer Dhamaka 2008” on Sunday, 1st June 2008 at the Somerset Ukrainian Church in Somerset, NJ.

Bitiya’s endeavor and effort is to reach as many people as possible and share the wonderful world of art, culture and heritage of India with different communities. This platform will serve the tri-state artists to present their work. We are promoting a number of artists, art schools in NJ, and rendering them opportunities to perform on stage and display their presentation of work without any monetary consideration. In a nutshell, the fair is being organized to promote the cultural diversity and expand cultural participation of different communities in the tri-state area.

Highlights:

- Exhibition of Indian art, handicrafts, costume jewelry, traditional Indian dresses, paintings, artistic brass work, accessories, gift items etc.
- Well choreographed dance competition in two categories
- Songs by several well known singers
- Art Competition for kids
- Raffles, giveaways, games and much more
- Food and beverage stalls